

Detroit Stadium Financing Gets O.K. In Lansing

LANSING (AP)—A bill setting up an authority to build an Olympic stadium in Detroit headed for Gov. George Romney's desk today after members of a legislative conference committee reached a compromise agreement on two disputed amendments.

The compromise overcame the last obstacle in the path of legislation aimed at helping to land the 1968 Olympic Games for the Motor City.

In a meeting today, three senators and three representatives agreed to lift a $30 million ceiling on bonding power for the stadium authority while retaining a restriction that no bonds may be sold before March 31, 1964.

Changes Approved

The bill had bogged down on the last lap of its trip to Romney's desk when the Senate balked Thursday on accepting the two amendments attached by the House in passing the measure.

The compromise agreement was reported to newsmen by the governor himself after a meeting with members of the conference committee. Romney termed the outcome "completely satisfactory to all parties."

Both the bill and a companion measure providing for an increase in state taxes on horse race pari-mutuels were passed by wide margins in the House Thursday.

The Senate quickly accepted the pari-mutuels bill and sent it to the governor. But on a 21-8 vote, the upper chamber decided not to accept the stadium authority measure with the two amendments.

One amendment set a $30 million ceiling on the authority's bonding power. The other specified no bonds could be sold before March 31, 1964.

Faced By Deadline

House Republican leaders backed the amendments but Senate Majority Leader Stanley Thayer, R-Ann Arbor, rejected them flatly as "unacceptable."

Thayer said the two amendments would imperil the salability of bonds for the proposed $25 million, 100,000-seat stadium because they were too restrictive.

"They would be too damaging to Detroit's bid," he stated.

House Speaker Allison Green, R-Kingston, said he favored the amendments because they would keep the stadium authority created by the bill from overstepping itself.

But faced with a deadline on getting both bills to Romney today, Thayer and Green agreed to appoint the conference committee.

The greyhound racing bill was on the floor of the House Thursday about as long as it takes one of the sleek dogs to go once around the track.

Kicked loose by the State Affairs Committee in the midst of the furor over the Olympics bills, the dog racing measure was referred to Ways and Means.

The House clashed in partisan debate on a seven-bill package designed to revise the Michigan Unemployment Compensation Act.

Vote On Party Lines

Five of the bills were passed on votes that generally followed party lines, and two others were back to the labor committee headed by Rep. Riemer Van Til, R-Holland, chief sponsor of the package.

Passed by the house were bills to bar workers from collecting unemployment and workmen's compensation simultaneously, disqualify persons who lose jobs because of being convicted of a law violation, set up new standards for determining dependents, require claimants to be available for suitable work, and bar persons from receiving full private retirement and state unemployment benefits in the same week.

Republican senators were set to try for passage today of the bill to bring Michigan under the program of Federal Aid for Dependent Children of the Unemployed after they successfully fought off Democratic attempts at liberalizing amendments.

Republicans consistently voted down the amendment tries Thursday although Democrats orated and debated for more than an hour.

Rahoi Not Satisfied

Sen. Stanley Thayer, R-Ann Arbor, set the Republican line before debate began.

"We are well aware a lot of amendments will be placed on the bill in an attempt to discredit it," he said. "Vote all the amendments down and pass the bill as it is," was his word to the Republicans.

Sen. Charles Blundy, D-Detroit, termed the measure "a watered-down version of what the Democrats would like to have."

"The bill is better than nothing, but it doesn't do much," declared Sen. Philip Rahoi, D-Iron Mountain, of the measure which has already cleared through the House.

Flood Of Exiles From Cuba Puts Burden On Miami

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The flood of Cuban exiles has brought economic distress to this city of refuge and the only solution is a stepped-up resettlement program that will spread the load over other parts of the nation.

This was the gist of testimony Thursday at a hearing called by Florida congressmen Dante Fascell and Claude Pepper to determine just how serious the problem has become and how it can be corrected.

A wave of fear swept through Miami's huge Cuban colony when the hearing was announced.

"The refugees fear that we have entered into a policy of co-existence with Castro Cuba," said Wendell Rollason, director of the Inter-American Affairs Commission, a private organization concerned with problems of the exiles.

Fascell and Pepper asked each Cuban witness to assure his people that the United States government is dedicated to the overthrow of Castro and the return of freedom to Cuba.

He asked that the Cubans be told also that the hearing did not grow out of any feeling of hostility but "out of the need to help our own people who are in distress."

There was conflicting testimony over how many Cubans are in Miami and how many have moved into jobs formerly held by Floridians.

Labor leaders testified that the Cubans were forcing Americans out of jobs by accepting substandard wages, had worked as strike breakers, and had created "a smoldering situation that could explode at any time."

Negroes Lose Jobs
Negro leaders pleaded for help, declaring that so many of their people had been thrown out of work that hunger was more widespread than it was during the great depression.

"Many Negroes have lost their homes," said Neal Adams, operator of a grocery store in one Negro district. "Negroes are cooking over outside fires because they can't pay fuel bills. Negro children are being taken out of school because they have no shoes."

"Robberies are increasing, but these are 'bread' robberies. Our people must eat. They come into my store every day begging for credit and for the scraps I throw in my garbage cans."

Harry Tyson, director of the Miami office of the Florida State Employment Service, estimated that Cubans have taken over 50,000 jobs, mostly from Negroes and unskilled whites.

Rollason said 22,000 Cubans are working, 8,000 in jobs created by Cuban capital brought into this country.

Adenauer Quits Politics In Fall
BONN, Germany (AP)—Konrad Adenauer will quit politics completely when he retires as chancellor next fall, a ranking member of Adenauer's Christian Democratic party says.

Josef Hermann Dufhues, ranking party executive after Adenauer, said Thursday the chancellor, 87, will give up the party chairmanship he has held for 13 years and will not take any post in the new government. Dufhues had just come from a meeting of party leaders with Adenauer.

Citizens Group Winds Up Report On Foreign Aid
WASHINGTON (AP)—The report on foreign aid by a special committee headed by Gen. Lucius B. Clay is now scheduled to be submitted to President Kennedy around the middle of next week.

The 10-man group of prominent citizens reviewing the overseas assistance program had hoped to wind up its work Thursday, but Clay said after a day-long meeting that the report was not finished.

The committee's recommendations are slated for White House consideration before the President sends his aid request to Congress. The administration budget calls for $4.9 billion for the coming year, but officials said Kennedy might reduce the request slightly in sending his detailed proposals to congressional committees.

Central America Takes Steps To Halt Castroism

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP)—Costa Rican President Francisco Orlich expects next week's presidential meeting here to take effective measures to provide economic aid to Central America and to curb the spread of Castroism.

Security agents busied themselves with protective measures for President Kennedy and the five other chief executives.

But Orlich, in Costa Rican tradition, moved through crowds downtown Thursday night without a bodyguard or security agent, chatting informally with well-wishers.

Visiting the conference press center, he described Castroism as "a problem of the entire continent" and said Costa Rica favors collective action against the Castro regime.

But he added: "In the case of Costa Rica, our aid in putting an end to such a regime can only be moral aid. (Costa Rica's only army is a 1,200 man police force.)"

In defense of western culture the real leader must be the leader of the United States, who in this case is President Kennedy.

Orlich said next week's three-day meeting, opening Monday, must produce effective results, not mere words.

"We expect substantial aid for economic development with each country contributing its share. We must take the administrative and tax reforms agreed upon at the Alliance for Progress meeting in Punta del Este, Uruguay, and we expect aid from international agencies so we can effect most rapidly the social revolution needed to detain the spread of communism."

"The emphasis here will be on the economic integration of Central America. We have cost estimates of economic projects ready to present to President Kennedy, but I cannot reveal them now."

Kidnap-Slayer Hanged In Iowa
FORT MADISON, Iowa (AP)—Victor Harry Feguer was hanged today for the kidnap-slaying of a Dubuque physician in 1960.

It was the first federal execution carried out in Iowa since the federal kidnaping law was passed about 30 years ago.

Feguer, 27, of St. John's, Mich., walked steadily up the 16 steps to the gallows, and was dropped to his death. Even in death the stocky bachelor showed no signs of emotion. A clenched left hand was the only movement he made when the rope snapped his life.

Death came after a last meal of only an olive, which Feguer had requested as a symbol of peace.

Feguer, who had denied abducting and killing Dr. Edward Bartels, 34, July 11, 1960, was dressed neatly in a blue suit and dark blue tie. He weighed 192 pounds, 22 more than when he was arrested in Birmingham, Ala., by FBI agents 10 days after Bartels was lured from his home by a fake sick call.

Feguer attended a Mass in a security cell about 60 feet from the gallows about 4 a.m. before making his last walk.

Feguer spent a quiet night after making a 15-minute call to an aunt in Lansing, Mich. He had been hopeful up to the last minute his life would be spared and had numerous telephone talks with federal officials in the last 10 days in an attempt to persuade them to delay the execution.

"I always have my eyes set on the just cause even if this leads me to the end of the world," he wrote.

Junker told a news conference it will take some time for his government to formulate the conditions for asylum, but Bidault will be offered no special privileges.

Where would he go if he were expelled from German territory? "God knows, but I don't think that the Bavarian authorities would like me to say where I would go next," Bidault replied.

He said he does not expect to be ordered out of the country.

Reds Stirring Up Trouble For Kennedy In Costa Rica

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

AP Special Correspondent

The Communist world has pulled out all the stops to denounce President Kennedy's meeting, opening Monday, with Central-American presidents. An attempt to provoke violence during the meeting cannot be ruled out.

The meeting will be in San Jose, Costa Rica, and will be concerned to a large extent with the menace of Fidel Castro's communism in the Central-American area.

Costa Rica's Communist party appears to have arranged an alibi in advance should those intent on harassing the meeting succeed in breaking through the heavy security arrangements.

Manuel Mora Valverde, a leader of the Costa Rican party, announced publicly that the Communist party would not accept the blame for any "physical measures against the presidents" during the meeting.

From Moscow, in Spanish-language broadcasts to Central America, have come denunciations of the meeting as "a new plot against Cuba and the peoples of Central America." Moscow calls the meeting an attempt to form a Central-American military bloc to attack Cuba and hold back revolution elsewhere in Latin America. In what could be called to Communist-Castroist action, broadcasts repeat that "the people will thwart this new criminal plan."

Daniel Oduber, Costa Rican foreign minister, has not ruled out the possibility of a try from Cuba at violence during the meeting. He announced that whatever security measures are taken will be "directed against small hostile groups sent here to obstruct the presidents' conference."

Central - American authorities consider Havana-directed subversion to be a major obstacle in the way of progress in the area. Presidents of the United States, Honduras, El Salvador, Costa Rica, Guatemala, Nicaragua and Panama will discuss ways of countering the Cuban activity. Some Central Americans are reported demanding all action short of war.

The presidents also are going to talk about economic problems and how to improve standards of living. This will include a discussion of the Central-American common market, to which the U.S. President probably will pledge significant help.

Shamrock, Texas Wears The Green
SHAMROCK, Tex. (AP)—A bit of Ireland comes alive in the Texas Panhandle Saturday when Shamrock throws the biggest St. Patrick's Day celebration in its history.

This town of 3,000 virtually has been covered in green and white banners and bunting. The weekly newspaper has been printed with green ink and the menu for the big kickoff banquet is in Gaelic.

Shiny green top hats are everywhere, and shamrocks by the thousands will be flown in from Ireland.

All male citizens are required to have a donegal (Irish-style) beard, or carry a "shaving permit" with them at all times.

Thirty-six hours of continuous entertainment has been planned, centering around a two-mile long parade down Main street Saturday. This will feature forty-five elaborate floats and a score of bands, drill teams and horse clubs.

As one resident put it: "Everybody in this town is involved in St. Patrick's Day. We start preparing in the middle of January."

The fête began when the Shamrock band director decided in 1935 that the town should take advantage of its name and put on an annual Irish celebration. Each year things have gotten bigger.

About 40,000 visitors from surrounding counties are expected for the fun Saturday, with plenty of tourists stepping off for the night.

The rest of the year Shamrock is a quiet place, surrounded by cotton fields and stock farms. It got its name by sheer chance. The town had to submit three names when it applied for its post office, and someone suggested kidingly that the third choice be Shamrock for luck. It turned out the other two names were in use in Texas.

Balky Guild May Delay Ending Of Newspaper Strike
NEW YORK (AP)—Officers of the Daily News unit of the AFL-CIO New York Newspaper Guild have voted to recommend that members of the unit reject a publishers' offer aimed at ending the 98-day-old newspaper shutdown.

Thomas J. Murphy, executive vice president of the Guild, said the unit officers voted 47-3 against the offer Thursday night.

Publishers of eight major newspapers hope to resume publication next Tuesday.

Prior to the action by the Daily News unit officers, Amory H. Bradford, a spokesman for the publishers who discussed the resumption of publication with newsmen, said:

"It's a fair prospect that if all goes well it may be as early as next Tuesday. I would like to think that they all will accept."

Bradford, vice president and general manager of the New York Times, said the eight closed dailies will act together and that if even one Guild unit rejects the publishers' offer, "it would hold up the return to work."

Somalia Breaks Ties With Britain In Kenya Dispute
MOGADISHU, Somalia (AP)—Somalia's National Assembly has approved 74-14 a call by Premier Abdirasid Ali Shermarke for a diplomatic break with Britain in a dispute over Kenya's northern frontier district.

Somalia demands the adjacent district, which is peopled mainly by Somali nomads, but Britain says Somalia must negotiate with Kenya after it gets its independence.

Ethiopia also claims the northern district, and troops of Ethiopia and Kenya have been reported moving up to the Somali border.

More Russians Leave Havana This Weekend

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Soviet Union appears to have fallen behind in fulfillment of its promise to get several thousand troops out of Cuba by mid-March but indications are that a large group will be leaving Havana this weekend.

The U.S. government is keeping a close watch on the situation. For the past several days normally informative officials have declined to discuss numbers of troops have left Cuba so far. The problem appears to be one of analyzing and checking intelligence reports to determine exactly what has happened.

Experts Go Home
According to the best information available in official quarters here, the situation presently is this:

Since the removal promise was made to the United States Feb. 18, about 1,800 or 1,900 persons have left Cuba on four Soviet ships. The latest of those vessels to sail, the Gruzia, left Havana Sunday. It was reported by the Soviet Communist party newspaper Pravda to be carrying aviation mechanics, artillery experts, engineering troops and tank soldiers.

Another Soviet ship, the 15,286-ton Admiral Najimov, is in Havana harbor and there are reports in the Cuban capital it will depart this weekend with about 2,000 Soviet military specialists.

So far as U.S. authorities are concerned the number of people who have sailed on Soviet ships during the past four weeks—around 1,800 or 1,900—is considered fairly definite but the identification of those departing is by no means certain. For example, it is assumed here that many undoubtedly were Soviets, but some could have been Cubans going to the Soviet Union. Some could also have been Soviet civilian advisers to the Castro government.

Force Totaled 22,000
Officials said a definitive statement here on the situation is unlikely until all reports have been carefully sifted and more hard facts are available.

The big Soviet military buildup in Cuba which began last July resulted in the influx of an estimated 22,000 officers and men. After Premier Khrushchev pulled out his big nuclear missiles and nuclear-capable jet bombers in November an estimated 5,000 Soviet troops were withdrawn, leaving around 17,000.

Strike Ties Up French Railways
PARIS (AP)—A 24-hour strike paralyzed France's nationalized railways. The coal strike entered its third week. And President Charles de Gaulle's government still had come up with no answer to the mounting labor troubles.

Most suburban and long-distance trains stopped running shortly after 4 p.m. Many commuters drove to work in Paris, creating traffic bottlenecks during the rush hour. However, the Paris subway system operated normally.

Railworkers, like coal miners and others in government-owned industries, seek higher wages and other benefits. Talks with the government broke off temporarily.

Explosion Wrecks Powder Factory At Allentown, Pa.
ALLENTOWN, Pa. (AP)—A powder plant exploded here today. First reports said one was dead and several injured.

The plant was identified as that of the Trojan Powder Co.

Further details were not available immediately.

First reports said also that at least one section of the plant was destroyed.

The plant is about five miles north of Allentown.

It employs about 400. It had not been learned how many were at work in the area where the explosion occurred.

St. Patrick's Day Display Includes Green Ice Yacht

The House of Ludington's observance of St. Patrick's Day on Saturday (it falls on Sunday but the bars are closed) is going to have the feyest character since Gilhooley marked the day by eating a shamrock salad with a paris green dressing.

Pat Hayes is bringing a display of some of the world's fastest ice yachts to Ludington Park across from his hotel and linking it to St. Patrick's day by the thin thread of one boat's color and name. It is the "Irish Coffey" of Daniel "Bud" Coffey of Marinette.

The other boats are the red Runaway of Harold Derusha of Marinette, and the yellow Miss Shiver of his son, Roger Derusha. A fourth Renegade Class boat of the Menominee-Marquette fleet is the blue Highland Fling of William H. Caley.

Roger Derusha, who will bring the boats to Escanaba and who hopes there'll be a melt of Little Bay de Noc snow to expose the ice sheet so the fleet boats can be demonstrated, says they're the fastest one design ice yachts in the world.

Although the northern Midwest about the Great Lakes has uncertain ice conditions which have tended to limit the sport, says Derusha, its national center is here in an area ranging from Detroit and Toledo on the south to Menominee-Marquette on Green Bay, and Wisconsin's inland lakes like Pewaukee and Geneva near Milwaukee, and Mendota at Madison.

Lake Mendota iceboating, said Derusha, ruined by the late Johnny Buckstaff, the Oshkosh coffin maker, who was so good at ice yachting that he killed off competition. Buckstaff raced his big Debutantes at Menominee several years.

These Michigan and Wisconsin ice yachting centers, says Derusha, set the pace for the nation because of advanced design. When they send boats to Red Bank, N. J., or other ice yachting centers they clean up.

Elmer Millenbach of Detroit is the king of ice yachting. He designed the Renegade and sailed the prototype to victory over all challengers. He was so far out that other ice yachtsmen sought a boat like his and the Renegade Class was created. That was 14 years ago. There's been a lot of advance in ice yacht design since then and some of the Renegade features have been built into Class E boats. This class, fastest in the world, but not one design, has produced boats which have gone 145 miles an hour on Lake St. Clair.

Most ice racing today is windward and return on a two mile course, usually three laps, and small craft like the Renegades can sail a tighter race on such short courses than the big Class A boats with 350 square feet of sail, but Derusha said that the big boats haven't had the design experimentation that the smaller boats have had and so lay in application of new knowledge of aerodynamics. O. T. Havey of Madison, for instance, has a Class A boat, the Mary B, which represents an investment of $35,000. The mast alone cost $3,500.

The Millenbach-designed Renegades cost $2,000 each and carry only 67 feet of Dacron sail. Under ideal conditions they can attain 100 mph. They have 16 feet of plank and 22 feet of backbone and an 18 foot mast. Construction is 80 per cent of aircraft quality Sitka spruce from Alaska and all members are hollow to reduce weight to 450 pounds.

They're single seaters and skelter style front runner steering (with the feet.) The boats were made in Milwaukee and purchased by the Twin City yachtsmen two years ago. The first winter they got no sailing on Green Bay because of snow. This winter has provided several weekends of good sailing and the boats were also taken to Lake Geneva for a regatta of the Northwest Ice Yacht Association and got in one good day there.

The boats are so light they can be carried on top a car.

Centennial Parade Get 1st Float Entry From KCs

Escanaba's Centennial parade on Saturday July 6 has its first entry and everything's set to order the Centennial street decorations.

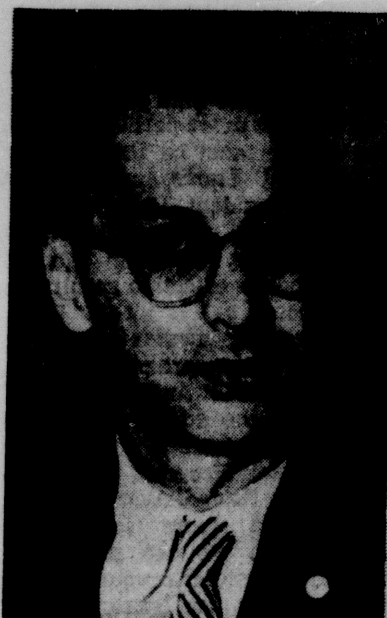

Chairman Claude Tobin of the Centennial Parade Committee announced today that Escanaba Council 640 of the Knights of Columbus had ordered a trailer float which will depict the Blessed Virgin under a canopy with three little children offering flowers.

The float will be in white with a pale blue canopy and it will bear a Rosary of red roses.

Tobin said that the committee hoped to have 25 to 30 professionally built floats like that of the KC's for the Centennial Parade.

Floats will be limited to 30 because this number, with marching units and other parade features, will require three hours to pass and that is the time limit fixed by the Centennial Committee on the parade.

The Centennial Decorations and Floats Committee spent Wednesday in Fond du Lac, Wis., where it inspected the facilities and workmanship of the M&M Display & Decorating Co. The committee, said Chairman Milton Embs, approved the firm and its representatives were to come to Escanaba today for signing of contracts on prices and service to provide floats for the parade for sponsors, and to decorate the city for the Centennial.

The Decorations and Floats Committee investigated several professional decorating firms in recent weeks, said Harold Cloutier, Centennial activities director, and chose M&M display.

Lakehead Will Loop Pipe Line

Interprovincial Pipe Line Co. is completing plans for the construction of 167 miles of 34-inch pipe line this summer, in a line looping program estimated to cost $20,438,000, announced R. E. Trammell, general manager.

Some 41 miles of the "big-inch" pipe will be laid in Manitoba while 126 miles will be constructed in Minnesota by Interprovincial's wholly owned subsidiary, Lakehead Pipe Line Co. The Canadian portion, involving four 10-mile sections will cost about $5,206,000 while the United States portion will cost about $15,232,000.

The first step of the 34-inch looping program was completed in 1962 when 38 miles were constructed in Minnesota.

The 34-inch diameter pipe is the largest pipe ever used for crude oil transmission in North America.

The Lakehead pipe line crosses Delta County in traversing the U. P. enroute from Alberta to Sarnia.

Delft Theatre To Reduce Price For Malinee Series

A series of ten Kiddie Matinees has been booked by the Delft Theatre, the series to start on Saturday, April 20 and run each Saturday through Saturday, June 22.

The series of Children's Matinees is recommended by the film distributing companies as being particularly suitable for young minds since they are morally clean and deal in a minimum of violence.

In order to maintain maximum exposure to this series of shows the distributing companies have reduced their rental fees to the different exhibitors if the entire series is booked.

Because the Delft Theatre wants to present clean entertainment for children under 12 years of age they are offering tickets for all ten shows in this series at only $1.50, or 15c per show. Of course, single admissions to the show without the dated coupons will remain at 25c for children under 12 years of age.

These special Coupon Tickets will be available at the Delft Theatre office as early as March 18 and the office will be open each afternoon from 1:00 to 3:00 p. m. and each evening from 6:30 to 9:00 p. m.

Each show will consist of one of the recommended features together with a comedy and four color cartoons and will last approximately two hours. May we suggest that you obtain your tickets for the series of shows as early as possible as they will be sold on a first come, first serve basis. (Adv.)

The Escanaba Centennial Queen's Contest Committee has accepted the entries of two more candidates, Sally Ann Benson and Darlene Moras. There are now nine girls vying for the title.

Miss Benson, who is a senior at the Escanaba Area Senior High School, is the daughter of Mrs. Austin Stegath and Dr. G. W. Benson and resides at 724 S. 10th St.

The five foot, six inch, blue-eyed blonde is an active member of many high school activities and was recently awarded the D. A. R. Good Citizenship Award. Currently Sally is secretary of the National Honor Society at Escanaba High School, a member of the Dramatics Club and is now a Thespian. She was president of the school's Mortarboard Society, a member of the Student Council and a past Honored Queen in Job's Daughters.

Music is one of her most active interests. She plays the flute in the school concert, marching and pep bands and with the Escanaba City Band. Sally is a member of a flute trio that recently played with a woodwind quintet at the Honors Concert at Northern Michigan University. She is also a member of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church Choir.

Athletically she enjoys skiing, swimming, volleyball, horseback riding and taking long walks. Some of her pastimes include reading, painting, knitting and sewing.

Sally's plans for the future are to attend Lawrence College in Appleton, Wis., where she recently was accepted. She hopes to become a teacher in either music, art or foreign language.

Miss Moras is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Moras, 220 N. 19th St. She is five feet, one inch tall with light brown hair and blue eyes and is a junior at the Escanaba Area Senior High School.

At the present time Darlene is an assistant dance instructor with the LeCaptain School of Dance. Her main interests center around dancing and is interested in a dance career. She has danced on several talent shows and for the March of Dimes Telethon for the past three years, both for WBAY-Green Bay and WLUC in Marquette.

Lay Plans For Michigan Week

Members of the Delta County "Michigan Week" committees held a luncheon at the Sherman Hotel Thursday to outline their plans for local participation in the observance.

The week of May 19-25 has been designated as Michigan Week. Charles Folio, U.P. director of the University of Michigan Extension Service, is Delta County chairman.

Committeemen include George Marcouiller, finance; and Robert Schwabach, publicity. Daily acting chairmen are: Sunday May 19, Spiritual Foundation Day, Charles Folio; Monday, Government Day, City Manager George Harvey; Tuesday, Hospitality Day, Charles Folio; Wednesday, Our Livelihood Day, George Thoma; Thursday, Education Day, Charles Nelson; Friday, Our Heritage Day, George Embs, president of the Delta County Historical Society; and Saturday, Our Youth Day, Co-chairmen, Harold Johnson, coach at the Escanaba Senior High School and Don Pfothner, coach and advisor at the Gladstone High School. Mary Croteau will head the cultural activities committee.

This year's theme of Michigan Week is "Science and Research For Our Future."

The week has been set aside to get all the citizens of the community and county to know the people and other assets of the state; to take pride in Michigan, communicating their pride to others outside of Michigan; and to work arm-in-arm with citizens of other counties and communities for the development and improvement of Michigan.

Plans were suggested at Thursday's meeting for tying in Escanaba's centennial as part of the week-long observance. It was proposed that the queen candidates for the centennial be stationed in stores throughout the community during Hospitality Day to pass out brochures or pamphlets about county and state.

Other suggestions aired at the meeting included using the television media to further an informational program on Delta County; contacting K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base officials regarding a speaker on space travel; an exhibit; a tour of the County Historical Society building; programs for youth to take part in; and extending an invitation to the president of Enstrom Inc., of Menominee, builders of a new model helicopter, to speak here.

A second meeting has been scheduled for 12:15 p.m. on April 25.

Truth About Taxes

There'll be no substantial or important reform of the federal tax structure in this session of Congress. There is need for such reform to make the levies more equitable but it won't happen now.

The talk in Washington about taxes is now about a tax cut.

President Kennedy originally asked for both a tax cut and tax reform but will now settle for a tax cut in the hope that it will stimulate the nation's economy.

Oddly, the nation hasn't rallied to the President's plea in a big united way. It wants the tax cut all right, but it is skeptical about both the intention and the result.

President Kennedy's financial advisors say that the stimulation of business by a reduction of taxes will, over the years, more than make up for the loss of tax revenue by applying the reduced rates on a larger national income. It's a complicated economic theory which is recommended more strongly by political relief than by fiscal certainty, but it does have merit.

The reluctance to push tax reform, which is loaded with political dynamite because it means increasing some persons taxes, does not extend to reluctance to push social reforms which would increase taxes. Government spending can be reduced. It should be reduced. This is the other side of the coin if there's to be an effective mintage of business stimulation by tax reduction. The two actions spell out the honesty of the effort to encourage private enterprise.

Economist Raymond Moley says "The lesson we can learn from 1954-55 (when taxes were cut to fight a recession) certainly doesn't justify the President's insistence upon a tax cut as a single means of assuring continued prosperity. Confidence in the fiscal responsibility of the federal government certainly cannot come from gigantic, planned deficits."

The U. S. economy is obviously not as buoyant as we'd like it. The huge burden of taxes is a depressing influence which contributes to this condition. But only to cut taxes to free the economy of some if this burden does not build the confidence that lubricates a free economy. The tax cut would add to a national debt which now requires for interest payments alone one tenth of the national government's total income.

The tax cut should be part of a larger package of courageous national intent to pay our bills or restrain our spending.

Parents And Drop-Outs

A few years ago the word "drop-out" was probably meaningful only to teachers, school administrators and parents directly involved. Now it is talked of in discussions of the economy, of crime, of the whole future facing American youth.

The drop-out is the youngster who leaves school before graduation. In the present decade, it is figured there will be 7.5 million of these.

They will be throwing themselves, untrained, into a world in which unskilled may by 1970 make up no more than 5 per cent of the total U. S. work force.

With all the alarm felt over this prospect, there has been far too little digging into the background of known drop-outs to search for the causes of the problem. Now, however, we have some new facts from a Maryland study managed co-operatively by state, county and Baltimore city education departments.

First off, it blasts the idea that most dropouts are delinquent children. Scanning nearly 14,000 who left high school in 1960-61, the questioners found that four out of five never were rated serious behavioral problems. Nearly as many never had been suspended.

The notion that most drop-outs are either the product of broken homes or are altogether homeless does not hold, either. Some 70 per cent of those studied lived with both parents. Another 10 per cent lived with one parent or the other.

Half the drop-outs had average to above average intelligence, which hardly makes the lack of it a dominant element in the story.

What did impress the Maryland testers was the generally low educational and aspirational level of drop-outs' parents. Some 80 per cent of the fathers and nearly as many mothers had themselves been drop-outs. And a high proportion showed very limited total schooling.

Thus, as some top educators have suggested in broad terms, it is not so much the broken home as the home with a poor atmosphere which is heavily at fault. In too many cases, no interest in getting an education — or in any kind of solid achievement — is implanted in the school youngsters.

The Maryland investigators found this showing up in another way. More than two-thirds of the drop-outs never took part in athletics or any sort of extracurricular activities. This was most noticeable in big schools where competition was sharpest.

Certainly lack of intelligence, of energy and drive, of such fundamental learning tools as reading skill, were important factors in numerous instances. But the drop-outs themselves told the key part of their story: lack of interest was the biggest cause.

More and more often, the matter of inadequate home setting — either inhospitable or indifferent to learning — crops up as we look at the country's educational needs.

Many say more and better education is vital to us. But how do you begin the process with the millions of children whose family way for life affords education no place or stature?

Perhaps this is the question to which concerned educators should today be addressing themselves, above all other matters.

Keep 'Em Compact

It was bound to happen. Auto makers are advertising their 1963 compact cars in decidedly uncompactlike terms of "biggest," "longest," "most powerful."

This return to bigness actually began soon after the compacts were introduced as a refreshing answer to the challenge of foreign competition. The best-selling compacts became the de luxe models, those most bechomed, with the biggest powerplants, with automatic drive, bucket seats. Today this creeping inflation is finally being reflected in larger dimensions on most of the "compacts."

What of the person who still wants a true compact? Are we going to witness the whole play over again—the trend to overblown chariots, the inroads of tiny foreign cars, the agonizing decision to build small American cars, their popularity, the switch to "intermediate" sizes, the comeback of the big cars...?

At present, the American motorist still has a large and fairly well-balanced selection, ranging up from true compact. Let's hope the auto makers maintain this situation.

"Care to Join Me in a Little Snack?"

Edson In Washington

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—President Kennedy's scheduled visit to San Jose, Costa Rica, March 18-20 will mark the first time a U. S. president has met with the presidents of Panama and the five Central American republics east of Mexico.

When this region first obtained independence from Spain it was known as the Province of Central America. Panama was part of Colombia. Later the area split into six republics.

Some years hence they may again unite politically. But their big problem now is economic integration and firm establishment of a Central American Common Market by 1966.

The coming conference of seven presidents also will discuss international political questions, particularly the bitter pill of Castro and communism in the Caribbean.

The Central American presidents may have some plain talk for Kennedy on this subject because their countries are prime targets for subversion from Cuba.

What is expected to emerge from the San Jose conference is not a series of resolutions but a more conventional communique. It might call on the several countries to double their internal security efforts.

There will be positive action on economic integration which was called for by Kennedy two years ago in his original Alliance for Progress speech to Latin American diplomats at the White House.

Excepting Panama, which is expected to join later, Central America is technically a free trade area now. Tariffs between the five countries have been abolished on all but about 50 principal items of trade. Tariffs on them are expected to be removed within five years.

In the meantime, it is planned to negotiate common external tariffs and a customs union which will make Central America a true common market area. Eight treaties and protocols have been signed since 1958 to bring economic integration to this present status. Agreements have been ratified by all governments except Costa Rica, which is moving slower.

Major obstacles still hamper full development. All six countries depend on similar exports. Coffee is the principal export of Costa Rica, El Salvador, Guatemala and Nicaragua. Bananas are the major export of Panama and Honduras, second in Costa Rica and Guatemala. Cotton and textiles are developing in Nicaragua and El Salvador. Panama has large shrimp exports. Honduran cattle are moving to neighboring countries.

But the volume of this trade, 2 per cent of total exports in 1950, was still only 7 per cent in 1960.

Lack of communication is one handicap. Air transport bears the heaviest traffic. Such railroads as there are run principally from coastal cities inland. There is no through line from Panama to the Mexican border and there would be little for it to haul if it could be built.

All bridges are completed on the Pan-American highway, but it is by no means a paved freeway for tourists. There are many gravel stretches and numerous land slides in bad weather.

A caravan moving from Panama to Mexico by motor vehicle and thence by air is expected in Washington for the Pan American highway conference opening May 6.

The U. S. Congress, paying two-thirds of the cost, appropriated $60 million in 1958 to complete the highway and made it plain this was to be the last contribution.

A Central American Bank for Economic Integration was established in Tegucigalpa, Honduras, in 1961. U. S. Agency for International Development—AID—has advanced it a $3 million grant and a $5 million loan to get going.

AID has opened a Central American office in Tegucigalpa for regional planning. A U. S. advisory mission has been set up to work with the Organization of Central American States in Salvador and the Council of Central American Universities in San Jose. The first project is printing over two million textbooks to supply the first six grades of all Central American schools by 1965.

Charles Burton, 27, of 302 Minnesota Ave., paid a fine and costs totaling $50 when arraigned today before Justice A. J. Mortier today on the same charge.

Park Is Objective
Industrial Development Committee—Wynand Nieuwenkamp, chairman, James T. Jones, John Olson, Ron Watson and Charles Burton.

Members elected to the Board of Directors at a previous meeting were: Ron Watson, Dr. David Jondrow, Richard Schoenberg and William Swenson Jr. Swenson was elected to fill the vacancy which will be created by G. H. Casey who will leave Gladstone shortly to work in the home office of Northern Cedarcraft Products. At Thursday's meeting the directors elected the new officers.

It was reported that the primary objective of the Chamber during the coming year is the completion of Wilderness Park. Wellman said the new site, the area from the City Power Plant north to the City Coal Dock, will be initially completed to house 50 camping units. The area covers about 15 acres.

To Donate Building
"The Chamber has received many of the materials needed to complete the project already and a number of people have offered their services," said Wellman.

According to the Chamber head, one of the first things to be done will be leveling of the land. He said the site is an ideal one because there are no trees to be cleared away. "Of course one of the first things after the land has been leveled will be to install the camping pads, probably with gravel, and then plant trees with some form of over-all landscape plan in mind," he said.

One of the largest donors to the new project was Northern Cedarcraft, who will donate a sanitary and shower facilities. Wellman said the building will be much like the Cedarcraft office at the Gladstone Industrial Park, but that the interior walls will be covered with some type water repellent product. The building will be constructed on a concrete slab.

Plan Annual Drive
Also, electricity will be made available to campers wanting it and there will be a central water supply.

Wellman said the Chamber, with the assistance of the city, had put much time and effort into the project. If all goes well the park should be opened about the middle of June, just in time for the camping season.

Next week the Gladstone Chamber will begin its annual fund-raising campaign for membership. Monies realized from the drive are used to finance various chamber activities.

Ann Landers Girl Has Freedom Wishes She Didn't

Dear Ann Landers: When I read letters in your column from teenagers who gripe because their parents are too strict I become so envious I can hardly stand it.

I'm a 17-year-old girl who may as well be an orphan. My folks don't care what I do. I can go anywhere, with anyone, at any time. No questions are ever asked. I've tried to talk to my mother about my boy friends but she doesn't even listen. This morning, as an experiment, I said to her, "I sure had a good time last night. Bill and I went to Indiana and got married." She said, "Oh, that's nice." As usual she wasn't listening and didn't pay any attention to what I had said.

All teenagers need rules to follow. It makes them feel as though somebody really cares about them. I'd give anything if my folks acted like parents instead of strangers who live in the house and pay the bills. — FREEDOM UNLIMITED

Dear Unlimited: You've got a smart head on those 17-year-old shoulders. I hope your message gets through to teenagers and parents. Thanks for writing.

Dear Ann Landers: For over a year I've been dating a widower. We will probably never marry for a variety of reasons — religious differences being the most important. But he has brought joy and meaning to my life, as I have to him.

This man returned from a two-week business trip and I met him at the airport. He expressed a horror of "going into that messy house of his" so I offered to help him straighten it. I was vacuuming and he was unpacking when his married daughter and her family dropped in. We stopped cleaning and chatted a while. It all seemed quite pleasant.

The next evening I was told by a reliable source that my friend's daughter was furious to find me in her father's home. She considered my behavior indecent.

May I hear from you on this? — PIANISSIMO

Dear Pianissimo: I see nothing indecent in a widower having a female guest in his home. And if the guest wishes to help tidy up his place I see nothing indecent in that either.

Don't let the daughter put you on the defensive. She probably represents the thought of any woman being friendly with her father. The problem is really hers — not yours.

Dear Ann Landers: My sister-in-law is a good person but plenty scatter-brained. How she ever graduated from Smith College with honors no one will ever know.

Gwen likes to write letters and I like to receive them because they are always newsy and amusing. But I've learned never to open an envelope from Gwen in the presence of others because it's impossible to predict what may fall out.

Gwen has written to me on the back of a shirt-card, scribbled notes on brown wrapping paper, and used the reverse side of a PTA bulletin. Yesterday a long letter came on paper-towel — the kind you'd find in the ladies' room.

This is not a gag with her — it's always because "I'm out of stationery and this is handy."

I'm getting fed up with her "what-the-heck" attitude. Shall I let her know or would it be best to skip it? — ANYTHING GOES

Dear Anything: If Gwen's "what-the-heck attitude" irritates you, spend $2 and send her a nice big box of stationery.

Confidential to Thin Walls: Don't go to the manager. Talk to the woman next door and let her know. If the situation does not improve THEN go to the manager.

To learn the difference between a marriage that "settles down" and one that "gets dull," send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "What To Expect From Marriage," enclosing with your request 20c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Feed Grain Sign-Up Deadline Nears

William Strasler, chairman of the county agricultural stabilization and conservation committee reminds feed grain growers to file an intention to participate form at the ASC office here by March 22 if they plan to take part in the 1963 program.

Minimum diversion under the 1963 program is 20 per cent of the individual farm's total feed grain base. For diverting more than the minimum acreage from feed grain production into a conservation use, the diversion payment will be figured at a higher rate.

Besides the diversion payments available in this program, participating farmers also qualify for a special price support program payment on normal production of the acreage planted to feed grains in 1963 and they also are eligible to put their crop under the regular price support loans or purchase agreements. If the farmer wishes, a part of the diversion payment may be taken in advance.

Colorful Folder Invites Visitors To Bay de Noc

Theme picture of the Hiawatha Bay de Noc Chamber of Commerce on its new tourist brochure is this boy feeding a fawn deer, a typical scene of this attractive big recreation area in the mid-Upper Peninsula.

The Hiawatha Bay de Noc Area Chamber of Commerce has published 60,000 colorful brochures describing for tourists the many things to do and see in the Bay de Noc-Hiawatha Forest area.

The tourist promotion folder points out attractions on a detailed map which includes such things as Fayette State Park, Garden Peninsula Drive and Indian cliff paintings. An enclosure, which lists motels, cabins, camping facilities and various services of the area with their addresses, is an added feature.

This is the first such endeavor for the newly-organized Chamber, according to Ray Newmann, of Rapid River, president. The brochures are available locally from Chamber members and from various area business places.

Many of the brochures have already been distributed at Midwestern sport shows. In Chicago 12,750 were given out; last week at the sport show in Detroit 10,000 were distributed and the chamber will be represented at two Milwaukee sport shows at which the brochures will be distributed.

The brochure, headed "You'll like the Bay de Noc-Hiawatha Forest Area" reports 1,200 square miles of recreation land open to the visitor, a million acres of Hiawatha National Forest, 1,000 miles of sparkling trout streams, 200 miles of Great Lakes shoreline, 1,500 miles of federal, state, county and Forest Service roads, 200 species of North American birds.

The year-around appeal of the area to the recreationist is stressed in photos showing smelt dipping, fishing, water skiing, trout fishing, deer hunting, duck and grouse hunting, walleye and perch

Alaska Now Has Marine Highway

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — A dream has come true for the young state of Alaska.

For the first time the state's Southeast Panhandle has a highway—a marine highway.

The sleek new motor vessel Malaspina, first of three ships to be delivered for use on the Southeast Marine Highway, initiated the new service last month.

Eventually to be joined by the motor vessels Taku and Matanuska, the Malaspina started her first run from Prince Rupert, B.C.

The 450-mile route from Prince Rupert, the southern terminus of the new system, to historic Skagway, the northern terminus, includes stops at Ketchikan, Wrangell, Petersburg, Sitka, Juneau and Haines.

The remaining two ships are under construction at the Puget Sound Bridge and Drydock Co. yard in Seattle. They are expected to be in service in May.

When all three vessels are operating, there will be six departures a week from Prince Rupert, which can be reached by steamship, rail, air, bus and highway.

The voyage from Prince Rupert takes passengers through spectacular scenery—many islands, towering spruce, hemlock and cedar forests and cliff-hanging glaciers.

This topography made a marine highway necessary. Engineers estimate a regular highway would cost some $350-400 million, if it could be constructed.

In addition, he received Germany's highest heroism award the "Land Hesse Life-Saving Award."

CIMMERIANS

The name Cimmerians is given to two peoples, one legendary and the other real. The legendary Cimmerians were a mythical race mentioned in Homer; the historical race lived along the northern shore of the Black Sea about 700 B. C.

There's Fallout Danger In Those Chemical Sprays

An inevitable consequence of population growth and economic prosperity is the birth of conflict between various resource interests. As more people with more money demand more of the better things of life, suppliers of these things are likely to tread on each other's toes.

A controversial case in point is the use of chemical poisons to kill pests, which too often has also produced damaging side-effects at the expense of wildlife.

In Michigan, agriculture, tourism, and forest industry perennially compete for second place in Michigan's economy with agriculture currently holding the edge. Each of the three involves between $650 million and $800 million per year.

Safeguard Investment

Of the three, tourism depends largely on the lure of natural beauty. And natural beauty is the sum of all things natural, particularly living things, from orchids to elm trees, from hummingbirds to elk, etc. When some new technological development throws this type of resource into jeopardy, it is understandable that many people react quickly and with strong emotions.

The application of pesticides by private landowners to their own crops has as yet stirred little objection. Probably the attitude is that the landowner—be he fruit grower, truck gardener, or general farmer—has every right to safeguard his investment and livelihood.

Public outcry started when the use of pesticides began to be made on a large scale, involving privately-owned lands without any attempt to secure individual approval.

The application of herbicides to highway rights-of-way and the use of chemical debarking agents by the pulpwood industry killed some forms of wildlife.

Proponents of spraying to control Dutch elm disease point out that it takes 50 years to grow a good-size elm tree and that the loss of birds is slight in relation to the total population. The bird lover retorts that he is interested in the birds in his own back yard, not the bulk of the population which he never sees, and is skeptical that the elm trees can be saved anyhow.

Problem Is Large

Control of forest insect pests has been carried out by aerial spraying without arousing much apprehension. Dosages have, in the main, been held to one pound of DDT per acre. Great care has been used to avoid spraying lakes and streams.

These have been some of the major incidents which have ignited a rather strong explosion of anti-pesticide sentiment.

In Michigan, the departments most affected by the controversy are Conservation and Agriculture. Both have regulatory and research responsibilities. It is the regulatory responsibilities which overlap and conflict. The problem is large and this state's research facilities are small.

Research Side Effects

Crux of the situation lies in the fact that extensive control programs are undertaken without adequate preliminary appraisal. Apparently, little or no attempt is made by manufacturers to assess the effects of either chemicals or application methods on the general ecology of a region before they are recommended for use.

Recently, various federal agencies, notably the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service and Public Health Service, established new research facilities to evaluate the side-effects of pest control materials and methods.

Until research catches up with the complex problems at hand, agencies responsible for natural resources must work together closely, concerning themselves with the broad ecological picture. And, if protection of one resource results in damage to other resources, it is their duty to assume the lead in searching for better methods which will minimize such damage, and not be content with the first and easiest method available, reports the Conservation Department.

A truck of Johnson Brothers, sawmill operators at Hermansville, is loaded with virgin hemlock, pine and hardwood on the Old Cedar River Road above Spalding in the forest of the Oliver Iron Mining Division, U.S. Steel Corp. Sawyers fell the trees, they are skidded to the highway by a "cat skinner" and a crane loads them, with the truck driver acting as topper. It takes only two hours from stump to mill in this "hot" logging. (Gene Peterson Photo)

Specials Busting All Over On TV

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Television, with an onset of spring fever, will be busting out all over with specials during the next seven days. Judy Garland, Arthur Godfrey, Edie Adams, Sid Caesar and Dinah Shore are among the variety-show stars.

Taking the schedules chronologically, the week's highlights shape up as follows:

Edie Adams, with an assist from the comedy team of Rowan and Martin, will appear in one of her short specials Sunday night (9:30-10 EST) on ABC. Then, at 10, Dinah Shore on NBC will entertain for an hour — a show with singers Joan Sutherland and Ella Fitzgerald.

Arthur Godfrey, in his second special of the season, will be seen on CBS on Monday night (8:30-9:30) in an affectionate light-hearted exploration of the animal kingdom.

Judy Garland's special comes on Tuesday on CBS (8:30-9:30 p.m.) and she will have some

"CBS Reports" on Wednesday evening will repeat its controversial "Biography of a Bookie Joint" (7:30-8:30) in case you missed it first time out.

And, on Thursday, Sid Caesar will preside over a comedy half hour on ABC (9:30-10 EST). Andy Williams on the same evening will have Shelley Berman as his guest star (NBC, 10-11).

with Ray Crandall

If you measure a basketball player by how he performs under pressure, Pat Groleau of Nahma comes out a giant. The loose-limbed junior, who measures a shade under 6-feet, 5-inches, has been nothing short of superb in Nahma's stretch drive for the Central League championship and in tournament competition.

With Eben and Perkins hot on their heels in the Central League race, Coach Owen Peterson's Arrows couldn't afford to stumble in the late going. They didn't—spilling Rapid River, Cooks and Eben to finish a notch ahead of Perkins in the final standings. Groleau contributed 98 points in those three victories.

In three tournament starts since the close of the regular season, Groleau has meshed 119 points to lead the Arrows into tonight's semi-final Class D regional tournament game against Brimley. Thus, in his last six "pressure" games, Groleau has scored 217 points for a 36.1 average.

Regarded by many observers as the best basketball player in the Upper Peninsula, Groleau is not a gunner in the accepted sense of the word. He averages about 50 percent of his field goal attempts, taking about 30 shots a game. Just as outstanding as his scoring feats are his rebounding and playmaking contributions to Nahma's successes.

If Groleau maintains anything like his present scoring pace as a senior next season he will rank among the greatest point producers the Upper Peninsula has ever known. He began his illustrious prep career at Nahma by scoring 186 points in his freshman year. He boosted his efforts to 380 as a sophomore last year and has 688 this season entering tonight's game with Brimley, for a career total of 1,254. That puts him in the same class as such all-time greats as Jim Manning of Trout Creek, Billy Koski of Champion, John Kocinski of Alpha and Erwin Schultz of Hermansville.

Latest Upper Peninsula bowler to join the "300" game ranks was Richard Stetson of Diorite who rolled his perfect game at the Miracle Lanes in Ishpeming last weekend.

Harold Johnson, Escanaba Eskymo basketball coach, is vice president of the Upper Peninsula Coaches Assn. which will hold its annual spring meeting Saturday at Northern Michigan University in Marquette. Joe Poisson of L'Anse is president of the organization.

Coach Bill Wood of Gladstone will have his four tallest players back in action again next season. Returning for another year of competition will be Tom Watson and Tom Brock, both 6-3, and Bob Randall and Tom Domres, both 6-0.

Russ Bruce, former Iron Mountain football coach who was named U.P. Coach of the Year in 1959, has been named head grid mentor at Fond du Lac High School. A native of Sault Ste. Marie and a graduate of Cornell College in Iowa, Bruce left Iron Mountain to become assistant freshman football and track coach at the University of Wisconsin. His 1959 Mountaineers posted a 6-1-1 record.

Stan Ojala, former Brimley athlete, has been named most valuable player on the Soo Tech basketball team for the second straight year. Ojala led the Hornets in scoring with 519 points and in rebounding with 213. The Hornets named John Jeske of Pickford as captain for the 1962-63 season and Dave Braden of Rudyard their most improved player.

Split pickers: Eleanor Ammel 5-7, Doris Fitzpatrick 5-7 and 8-10, Louise Orzel 5-10, Bev Ahola 4-7-10, Millie McDonough 5-10, Dorothy Briggs 5-10 twice, Doris Roberts 5-7 and 4-7-10, Jan Makosky 5-8-7, Arlene Jerow 5-7, Ronnie Norby 5-7, Fran McPherson 5-7, Marion Adams 6-7-10, Joe Segorski 7-9-10, Harry Johnson 4-7-9, Ron Koth 4-6-9-10, Ray Abrahamson 5-10, Marie Knauf 5-8-10, Walter Bjorkquist 5-7.

Capac Suffers Upset In State Tournament

By The Associated Press

Grosse Pointe St. Paul stopped Capac's bid for a Class C state championship for the third straight time 55-53 Thursday night before a crowd of over 3,600 at Ferndale.

Capac entered the game with a 19-0 record and had been the state's top rated Class C team. Grosse Pointe St. Paul, now 21-1, was third-ranked and had been a semi-finalist last year after winning the state title two years ago. Capac held the upper hand throughout the early stages of the game and held a 17-9 lead after the first quarter. The score was 25-all at the half. Capac regained the advantage and led 42-40 going into the final eight minutes.

The lead changed hands five times, with St. Paul going ahead to win the game at the buzzer on a shot by Jim Bigham. His brother, Bill, had knotted the score seconds earlier. Jim Bigham and Capac's John Scheuer topped game scorers with 17 points.

St. Paul connected on 15 or 20 shots from the free throw line, while Capac had 19 for 33. Four St. Paul players and two from Capac played most of the final period with four fouls.

While this Class C headline was stealing the spotlight, 11 other top-ranked clubs were also in action. Only two tasted defeat.

Rouge Gets Score
In the top Class A contest, second-ranked Saginaw Arthur Hill (18-0) bumped eighth-ranked Alpena 65-50 at Flint.

River Rouge (21-1), the defending state champion and the only top-ranked team still in the running, had a scare but finally shook off Detroit Holy Redeemer 69-61, while second-ranked Hudsonville Unity Christian (21-1) was disposing of North Muskegon 73-63, in Class B games.

The action was heaviest in Class C. Second-ranked Ontonagon (19-1) outlasted Crystal Falls, fifth-ranked Perry (20-0) trimmed Lansing St. Mary 40-32, sixth-ranked Addison (21-0) easily defeated Royal Oak St. Mary 54-32; ninth-ranked Muskegon Christian (16-6), the defending champion, clobbered Merrill 78-48, and 10th-ranked Houghton (16-3) clipped Sault Ste. Marie Loretto 51-40. Britton (19-0), third-ranked in Class D, eliminated Detroit St. Elizabeth 65-48, while Camden-Frontier (16-3) surprised sixth-ranked Covert 64-57.

Craig Dill scored 18 points in Saginaw Arthur Hill's victory over Alpena. It was only the second time in 18 contests that the sharp-shooting Dill had scored less than 20 points in a game. Arthur Hill moves into the regional final against Flint Central (14-4), 70-57 winners over Davison last night. Hudsonville Unity Christian overcame a one-point halftime lead by North Muskegon to win its game. Bill Peuler had 28 for the winners, while Bob Hesper's 22 led the losers.

Ontonagon's well-balanced scoring attack turned the tide against Crystal Falls in the second game at Marquette. Houghton took the opener from Soo Loretto as John Fryxell had 18.

Cassius Needs Ring Lessons

NEW YORK (AP) — Next step for Cassius Clay is an earn-while-he learns program. You can be sure he's going to earn plenty.

In the next 10 days, the unbeaten and still loquacious Louisville Lip, his brain trust headed by Bill Faversham, and trainer Angelo Dundee, will wade through a flock of offers that poured in following Cassius' thin, controversial decision over Doug Jones Wednesday night.

The lucrative bids include a return fight with Jones for Madison Square Garden in late May, a match with Ingemar Johansson, Sweden's former world heavyweight king for New York, and a fight tour of England and Europe, offered by British promoter Jack Solomons.

Faversham, Clay's manager and a Louisville distillery executive, said Thursday he wanted 10 days to think over the propositions. The chances are that the Jones return will be accepted.

First Clay is going to undergo a rigorous program to improve both his attack and defense. Even in victory, the "Greatest" showed vast room for improvement. He holds his hands too low, doesn't fight a lick inside, doesn't punch to the body enough, and is a sucker for a right hand when he goes backwards.

Northern Bows To Texas Team

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Pan American College of Edinburg, Tex., entered the semifinals of the NAJ basketball tournament with a 99-73 victory over Northern Michigan Thursday night.

Northern led 8-2 early in the game but Pan American went ahead to stay on a tip-in by Walt Yates. Lucius Jackson, the 6-foot 9 Pan American ace, followed with two more baskets and the Texans had no more trouble. Pan American made it 49-47 at the half and pulled away after intermission.

Gary Sile, Northern Michigan's 6-7 center, drew his fourth foul midway through the last half and was benched. He had shared the scoring load with Bob Armstrong in the first half and his absence was costly to the Michigan team late in the game.

Jackson was high for the winners with 35 points.

Manning To Get Good Look From Minnesota Twins

By JERRY GREEN

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — The Minnesota Twins desperately need right-handed pitching help — and they're taking an extra-special look at Jim Manning, less than two years out of Michigan high school ranks.

Manager Sam Mele believes Manning, at 19, has the savvy, poise and arm to make it this year in the American League. He almost made it last season, just a year after starring for Trout Creek in the Michigan high school basketball tournament.

The Twins took Manning home with them and kept him around a month as the major league's youngest player. But after five appearances, Manning was shipped back to the minors for more seasoning.

"He's throwing harder this year than last and he threw darn good then," said Mele at the Twins' training camp here. "He's driving the ball and keeping it low."

"Whether we keep him depends on what he shows here. But we need right-handed pitchers and if he shows more than some of my veterans we'll keep him."

Manning is one of the few right-handers on the Twins' staff dominated by left-handers. Of the 21 pitchers in camp 12 are southpaws.

Camilo Pascual, the curve-balling 20-game winning Cuban, is the only established right-handed starter. The other three make up the toughest southpaw group in the league — Dick Stigman and Michigan-reared hurlers Jim Kaat and Jack Kralick. Kaat is from Holland and Kralick from Wyandotte.

"If they give me a good look, I feel I can make it," said Manning. "The year of experience helped a lot. I sure was surprised they kept me at the start of last season. I had my bags packed three times ready to get out."

After only a part-season of low throw with nine seconds remaining in the game. Crystal's George Hronkin took individual scoring honors with 14 points. Larry Makimaa and Tom Csmarich each hit 13 for Ontonagon.

Houghton's margin of victory over Soo Loretto came from the free throw line where the Gremlins converted 19 of 24 attempts. Soo Loretto made four of only nine opportunities.

Bearcats Begin Bid For Third Straight Crown

By The Associated Press

Cincinnati's Bearcats and Duke's Blue Devils, who finished first and second in the final Associated Press college basketball poll of the season, start on the road tonight that they hope will lead to a battle between them for the national collegiate championship.

The Bearcats, champions of the Missouri Valley Conference and aiming for an unprecedented third straight national title, open their NCAA tourney play against Texas, champions of the Southwest Conference. The Blue Devils, kings of the Atlantic Coast Conference, tangle with New York University, an independent power ranked 9th nationally.

The two games highlight a full slate of eight second round games that sees 16 teams in action at four regional sites tonight.

This is the line-up; times are Eastern Standard:
Eastern Regionals, College Park, Md.: Duke, 24-2, vs. NYU, 18-3; West Virginia, 22-7, St. Joseph's, Pa., 22-4.

Midwest Regionals, East Lansing, Mich.: Illinois, 19-5, vs. Bowling

Green, 19-6; Chicago Loyola, 25-2, vs. Mississippi State, 21-5.

Midwest Regionals, Lawrence, Kan.: Cincinnati, 23-1, vs. Texas, 19-6; Colorado, 18-6, vs. Oklahoma City, 19-8.

Far West Regionals, Provo, Utah: Oregon State, 20-7, vs. San Francisco, 17-8; Arizona State, 25-2, vs. UCLA, 20-7.

Tonight's regional winners play in the quarter-finals Saturday night with the four survivors earning trips to Louisville for the semi-finals and final next week, March 22-23.

While the big schools are at it, Witterberg and South Dakota State battle tonight at Evansville, Ind. for the NCAA small college championship.

Since most everyone regards Cincinnati as a shoe-in over the Longhorns, the Duke-NYU tussle shapes up as perhaps the best of the second round. This one pits Duke's All-America Art Heyman and Player of the Year against NYU's All-America Barry Kramer and many think Duke's 18-game winning streak may go by the boards.

There also is keen interest in Mississippi State's first appearance in the tourney. The sixth-ranked Maroons, champions of the Southeastern Conference, face third-ranked Chicago Loyola, a team that has several Negro starters including All-America Jerry Harkness. In previous years Mississippi State passed up the tourney because of the school's segregation policy.

Witterberg won its 21st straight game, but had to go overtime to beat Oglethorpe 46-37 Thursday night in the NCAA small college semifinals. South Dakota State edged Southern Illinois 80-76 in the other semi.

Villanova whipped DePaul 63-51 and Memphis State beat Fordham 70-49 as the National Invitation Tourney opened Thursday in New York.

Villanova now will play top-seeded Wichita and Memphis State meets Canisius in the NIT quarter-finals Saturday Night. The first round will be completed with a Saturday afternoon doubleheader pairing LaSalle vs. St. Louis and St. Francis, N.Y. vs. Miami, Fla.

Semifinals in the NAIA small college tourney are on tap tonight at Kansas City. In the quarter-finals Thursday Pan American, Tex. beat Northern Michigan 99-73, Grambling downed Carson Newman 79-70, Ft. Hays State defeated Rockhurst 96-76 and Western Carolina thumped Lewis and Clark 77-57. Grambling meets Pan American and Western Carolina meets Ft. Hays in the round of four.

St. Pete Paced By Tommy Bolt

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — At the brink of 45 Tommy Bolt admits he has mellowed a bit, but he still has the same old ability to hit a golf ball.

Bolt tore into the 6,537-yard Lakewood Country Club course Thursday for a 7-under-par 65 and the first round lead in the $25,000 St. Petersburg Open.

"I just got a little lucky," he said as he came off the final green.

Billy Maxwell of Las Vegas said he could have used a little luck. Maxwell finished with a 66, but complained that he missed two golden opportunities for birdies.

Going into today's second round, Bolt was tied for third place at 67 were Dave Marr of New Rochelle, N.Y., and a couple of North Carolinians — veteran Julius Boros and Raymond Floyd, 20, of Fayetteville.

Bolt, who will be 45 later this month, did the job with an eagle and five birdies. The eagle came on the 451-yard sixth hole when he reached the green in two and dropped a 30-footer.

"I'm playing better," he said. "I feel better."

Leaders Praised For Scout Gains

Red Buck Scouters were commended for the outstanding advancement record over the past two months at roundtable programs held at Immanuel Lutheran Church in Escanaba Thursday evening.

The praise was voiced by Terry Tibor, Marquette, Hiawathaland Council field representative, who said the record was singularly noteworthy because of the number of new units that have been added in the district.

As part of the entertainment a satire on the "indispensable" Ken Mother was presented in a skit by Mrs. Elaine Backlund and Mrs. Carole Cole. They are Den Mothers of Pack 414.

John Van Brocklin presented a film program and conducted the Boy Scout roundtable. The district first aid contest will be held at Manistique April 27, he announced.

The Cubbing roundtable was conducted by Mrs. Marge Durkin, Cubbing commissioner. The district Cub Scout Pow-Wow will be held April 21.

Wallace Cameron volunteered to head the training session planning. The district kite contest is scheduled for May 5. John Schmitt, district vice chairman, displayed drawings for the camp area Manistique Scouters are developing.

Attending the roundtables were unit leaders of Manistique, Rapid River, Perkins, Gladstone, Wells, Escanaba, Bark River and Ford River. The next roundtable meeting will be held April 18.

Esky Hi Pioneer In Conservation

Henry Wylie, a member of the Escanaba Area High School faculty and of the Delta County Sportsmen's Club, told the club Thursday night about the first high school class in conservation in Michigan.

It was organized in Escanaba High School for the 1935-36 school year when so many youths looked forward to scant job opportunities and possible service in the Civilian Conservation Corps.

In 1937-38 a second semester of forestry was added to the conservation course. It has been offered since in the high school here.

Wylie said enrollment has grown so that two classes have had to be organized and there are over 60 students in each class. One class has 5 girls in it and Wylie says the girls do very well in the study.

A problem in launching the course was lack of texts and other materials and organizational plans. The 18 weeks of study cover the land, the history of opening America, soil conservation, the water resource, forest wealth, grass as a resource, conserving wildlife, minerals and fuels, the human resource and new problems, including air pollution.

Wylie used local experts like Geologist Arthur Slaughter, Soil Conservationist Erwin Ten Haken. The club voted a three day holding period before destruction of dogs picked up by the county dog warden. Members said there are two many ways for a dog to lose its collar and license to warrant summary killing. Many hunters remove collars to protect their dogs on hunts.

The club asked more "Deer Area" warning signs for motorists along M 35 between Escanaba and Cedar River, where many deer are killed every year by cars.

The club voted support of the candidacy of Roy Jensen of Escanaba, secretary of the Michigan Fish Producers Association, for appointment to the Michigan Conservation Commission.

Survivors include: one son James H. of Colman, two daughters in St. Ignace, Mrs. Peter (Ione) Houghton and Miss Doris Tebo, one brother, Louis, Manistique, two sisters, Mrs. Amanda Wills, Bellingham, Wash. and Mrs. Floss Shewbridge, Seattle, Wash. five grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p. m. Sunday from Messier-Broulliere Funeral Home with Rev. David van Gorkom officiating. Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home after 4 p. m. Saturday.

Air Crash Kills Lebanese Leader

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Emile Bustani, 56, one of the Middle East's most prominent industrialists and economic experts, was killed today when his private plane crashed in the stormy Mediterranean outside Beirut harbor.

His Scottish pilot, John Ogilvie, and two Lebanese, Dr. Nimr Toukan of the American University of Beirut, and Marwan Khartabil, also died.

Bustani was a member of Lebanon's Parliament, head of the largest industrial enterprise in this part of the world, and a prominent Arab spokesman for cooperation between Arab nations and the West. He was flying to Jordan for an audience with King Hussein when his plane plunged into the sea.

The twin-engine luxury craft turned back en route to Damascus, apparently in trouble. It circled half a dozen times beyond the city's harbor district and spiraled down in a rain squall about two miles offshore.

Military patrol boats, divers and helicopters searched the area and by noon recovered the bodies of Khartabil and Ogilvie from the rough sea.

Bustani and Toukan apparently were trapped in the plane about 600 feet below the surface. Divers could get down only about 200 feet.

Democrats Given Red Carpet Tours

DETROIT (AP)—The Democratic Party's 1964 Convention Site Committee arrived in Detroit Thursday after getting a red carpet tour of Chicago's lakefront convention hall. The group got showmen's handling—including limousine service—from Chicagoans boosting their city as the site for the 1964 Democratic Convention. Detroit officials, hoping to beat out Chicago and other cities at the convention site, planned the same type of reception.

Milk Men Set Up Promotion Tax

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Members of the Independent Milk Producers' Association will tax themselves 1.5 cents per hundredweight of milk for the coming year to finance a promotional venture. The assessment vote involved area members aiming to raise some $22,000 for a campaign directed at consumers in Grand Rapids and Lansing areas. It seeks to induce more persons to consume more bottled milk.

Miss McGonagle competed with 1800 students in the first testing program and rated in the upper 4% of that group. Among these finalists, Lorna was one of ten to achieve this honor. Sir Winston Gets Citizenship But Won't Pay Taxes

WASHINGTON (AP)—If honorary U.S. citizenship comes to Sir Winston Churchill, will the U.S. tax collector follow close behind? Not at all, say the sponsors of legislation to honor the British leader.

The bill passed by the House and considered certain to be approved by the Senate says nothing one way or the other about applying U.S. taxes to Sir Winston.

But before the matter was brought to a vote, the question was put to the Department of Justice, which reported:

"The resolutions would not have the effect of requiring Sir Winston to be considered a national of the United States, under the tax laws of the United States or of the individual states."

The department said it would be well to explain this circumstance in the report accompanying the bill.

Discount Stores Hit Closing Law

DETROIT (AP)—Sixty-one discount stores in 13 southern Michigan counties have started a Wayne County Circuit Court suit questioning the legality of the state's Sunday or Saturday closing law.

The law, approved by the legislature a year ago and signed by former Gov. John Swainson, had as its announced purpose "protection of the health and morale of Michigan citizens by guaranteeing workers at least one day off each week."

Supporters said it was not intended as a "blue law" to force people to go to church.

The law, which takes effect March 28, is statewide, but provides that supervisors in any county may by a two-thirds vote exempt stores in their county from the provision of closing down on either Saturday or Sunday.

In the suit filed Wednesday, the multi-county stores argued that the giving of such powers to county supervisors was an illegal and unconstitutional delegation of power by the legislature.

ISLET SHIP

An uninhabited islet off Martinique was called HMS Diamond Rock during the Napoleonic wars. Here British sailors and marines held out for nearly 18 months before surrendering to a French naval squadron. Caves in its sheer cliffs sheltered barracks, coastal batteries and a hospital.
